FOREWORD

The National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 envisages an education system that is rooted in Indian ethos, and its civilisational accomplishments in all domains of human endeavour and knowledge while simultaneously preparing the students to constructively engage with the prospects, and challenges of the 21st century. The basis for this aspirational vision has been well laid out by the National Curriculum Framework for School Education (NCF-SE) 2023 across curricular areas at all stages. Having nurtured the students' inherent abilities (touching upon all the five planes of human existence, the panchkoshas), in the Foundational and the Preparatory Stages has paved the way for the progression of their learning, further at the Middle Stage. Thus, the Middle Stage acts as a bridge between the Preparatory and the Secondary Stages, spanning three years from Grade 6 to Grade 8.

At the Middle Stage, the NCF-SE 2023 aims to equip students with the skills that are needed to grow, as they advance in their lives. It endeavours to enhance their analytical, descriptive and narrative capabilities, and to prepare them for the challenges and opportunities that await them. A diverse curriculum, covering nine subjects, namely three languages—out of which at least two languages native to India, Science, Mathematics, Social Science, Arts Education, Physical Education, Yoga and Well-being, and Vocational Education will promote their holistic development.

Such a transformative learning culture requires certain essential conditions. One of them is to have appropriate and interactive textbooks in different curricular areas, which will play a central role in mediating between content and pedagogy—a role that will strike a judicious balance between direct instruction, and opportunities for exploration and inquiry. Among the other conditions—classroom arrangement, technology integration and teacher preparation are crucial to establish conceptual connections both within, and across curricular areas. The National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT), on its part, is committed for providing students with such high-quality textbooks. The various Curricular Area Groups (CAGs), which have been constituted for this purpose, comprising notable subject-experts, pedagogues, artists and practising teachers as their members, have made all possible efforts to develop such textbooks. Kriti, the textbook of Arts for Grade 6 is one of these.

The contents of Kriti encompass the art forms of Visual Arts, Dance, Theatre and Music. This textbook is for the learners to explore their creativity as well as express and explore themselves. Kriti has infused in its—visuals and other components, the rich Indian Knowledge Systems, India's artistic and cultural heritage, values—all deeply rooted in Bharat. Inclusivity of all genders and students with special abilities is inherent to arts giving equal opportunity to all students. Making optimum use of the technology integration, QR codes have been embedded throughout, as additional learning resources.

For all practical purposes, Kriti has, to my mind, succeeded in its curricular goals—to foster natural curiosity among students through a proper selection of theme and content, and develop among them the core competencies at this stage as envisaged in the NCF-SE 2023 for creativity, exploration and experiences of different art forms. The sections and chapters are intelligently designed to accommodate all students in various activities, bringing out their creativity and expression. Each activity suggested here will take the students to a journey to discover more such learning resources, be it their natural surroundings, day-to-day chores or human interventions. Besides, the role of parents and teachers will also be invaluable in guiding, and encouraging students to do so. With this, I express my gratitude to all those who have been involved in the development of this textbook and hope that it will meet the expectations of all stakeholders.

At the same time, I also invite suggestions and feedback from all its users for further improvement in the coming years.

ABOUT THE BOOK

Kriti, the textbook of Arts for Grade 7 is an effort to deepen your understanding of the diverse art forms of India. This initiative will broaden your perspective, and foster an appreciation for the countless expressions of creativity and culture, spread across different regions in art forms like Music, Dance, Theatre and Visual Arts. Having explored and practiced various art forms since Grade 3 you are now aware that you are surrounded by a vibrant artistic world in your country. Every expression is unique, born from an idea or theme inspired by everyday happenings. These themes capture the essence of nature's beauty, the diverse tasks of people, human emotions like love, tolerance, empathy, conflict and innovation, as well as problem solving elements that shape the fabric of human life. Each expression reflects deep thoughts, layered analysis and independent engagement, making it a distinctive manifestation of individual cognitive understanding and creativity.

The art forms practised in India express the daily happenings of respective communities who form the society, reflects on the gharana or parampara of traditions passed down from one generation to the other in communities, which when documented is a great story of historical evolution and contemporary practices. Taking a few examples in Music the jaatis and gramas evolved to ragas, geetis, dhruvapada, khyal, thumri, etc. In the historical evolution of dance the nritta, nritya and natya evolved to classical dances and folk dances. Similarly warli, madhubani, aipan, etc., in visual art or togalu gombeyaata, jaatra, yakshagana in theatre reveals the wondrous expressions that collectively lead to the creation of something truly aesthetic, which builds the canvas of the society frame by frame. The Navarasas—the nine fundamental human emotions—serve as powerful channels to convey countless thoughts in an artistic and profoundly aesthetic manner.

The Indian knowledge system is embedded with gems from the artistic world. The underlying idea behind the publication of textbooks in Arts is to rejuvenate stakeholders in education, helping them understand the existing knowledge base in different areas of art. It further aims towards perspectives to make the Indian Arts valuable to the ever emerging trends in the world through creativity, innovation and continuous progress or evolution. It is always valuable to connect past values, traditions, and artistic endeavours with the present, paving the way for continuous evolution and growth toward the future. Appreciation of whatever is existing complements the skill development and contributes to building proficiency.

The present textbook has been designed in alignment with the recommendations of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, and according to the curricular goals, competencies and learning outcomes laid out in the National Curriculum Framework for School Education (NCF-SE) 2023 for Arts Education. The book covers multifaceted areas in Visual Arts, Music, Dance, Theatre. The basic elements that shapes the art forms and gives it the definite base have been discussed in accordance with your age-appropriate needs and engaging activities for easy and enjoyable comprehension. The content in the textbook will help you to understand the close connection between outstanding expression of artists, their accomplishments and the events of everyday life, as well as the world we live in. This will definitely inspire you to explore different techniques and styles, and even create your own. Each of the activity has been designed to give a unique experience for you. The beauty of art is that the underlying emotion has a lot of similarities in varied forms of art. So, it can connect to people of varied interests and tastes yet each one can find their unique connection to the arts. Apart from the exercises, activities and information given in this book, there are examples of many practical and creative ideas, that can be accessed by scanning the QR codes.

Kriti, has four sections—

-   for Theatre
-   for Music
-   for Dance and Movement
-   for Visual Arts

Here's how the textbook wishes to approach different concepts.

THEATRE

Theatre for the energetic students of Grade 7 brings in equal amounts of fun along with interesting learning of facts and self exploration. From going into the depths of understanding emotions to exploring new art forms like pantomime, they have a whole new world ahead of them. But each chapter is planned in a way where they not only learn a theatre-related element, but also acquire a new skill that enables them to handle the challenging situations that life throws at them.

- ❖ In the first chapter, they learn empathy and acceptance of others' feelings.
- ❖ The second chapter introduces them to a unique art of Mime! This helps in building non-verbal communication enabling better public interactions.
- ❖ The third chapter builds management and organisational skills through the knowledge of backstage work.
- ❖ The fourth chapter introduces them to the art of storytelling and its rich history in India.

MUSIC

The notes S R G M P D N has unimaginable creative avenues. The patterns which are woven through the ascending and descending notes give us music, in all forms and genres. In Grade 6, different forms and their styles of presentation in different contexts, connecting people to nature, human emotions, iconic artists, impact of musical instruments and voices, the systems of raga and tala, etc., formed the basis of understanding music, a unique intangible art form. Holistically the content in Grade 6 tried to help you explore the intricate nuances of nada or sound. The Grade 7 textbook takes you on another interesting and erudite journey in music. It lays emphasis on analysis of compositions to comprehend impact of male and female voices, the layers found in different formats of music, tempo, mood, importance of solo and group presentations, synergy between multiple musicians where harmony, rhythm, and dynamics take on a richer, more complex form; music and emotions through examples of different genres of music like shabad, musical narratives or storytelling, classical music and folk music, reforms and messages in society through, role of woman, role of inclusivity, presentation methods and skills, etc. Nuances of both Hindustani and Carnatic Music that includes ragas, their elements, compositions, different talas and the historical development. In essence, music is much more than just a sequence of notes. It is a form of expression that touches the soul, telling stories, evoking emotions, and connecting to other art forms, a rich tapestry of cultural and emotional expression.

DANCE AND MOVEMENT

This section and the Grade 7 will be focussing on—

- ❖ Movements of various parts of the body in continuation of what they have done in Grade 6.
- ❖ Learning about the interrelationship of the arts, especially looking at sculpture and geometrical shapes.
- ❖ Learning some basic units of dance with steps, jumps and pirouettes becoming comfortable with their body.
- ❖ Comfort level in emotional expressions and connecting them with nature.
- ❖ Creativity with dance movements and hand gestures, and contemporary thought process in dance and movement. Discussion on how these dances convey stories, emotions, and spiritual themes.

- ❖ Gender sensitisation with role-playing regardless of gender.
- ❖ Explore the diversity of Indian dance forms, such as Bharatanatyam, Kathak, Odissi, and regional folk dances and research about notable dance personalities.
- ❖ Importance of team effort and collaborations, and holistic development through dance and movement.
- ❖ Observation of dance gestures (mudras) and creating short dance sequences.

VISUAL ARTS

In Grade 6, your attention was focussed on observing nature, people, different types of daily use objects, art traditions and techniques with their multidimensional aspects. Through line, shape, form, colour, value, texture and space, you will have the scope to express in multifarious ways. Similarly, in Grade 7 to understand the concepts better, you will be introduced to a wide range of visual arts' practices that include drawing, painting, design and heritage crafts interspersed with art history. A tiny grass, leaf, stone, cloth, historical monument, utensils in the kitchen, the room where you live or your classroom has so much variety in terms of shape, surface, colour, dimensions, etc. You simply find all these observations and understanding, exotic through gradual discovery. Your expression through sketches, colour, clay, paper folding, etc., makes your engagement interesting, sharpens your mind, and gives you better skills and ideas to express non-verbally culminating to inner joy, and fulfilment in your experience. The chapters also reveal fascinating connections that integrate the visual arts with theatre, music, dance, science, mathematics, history and various other disciplines. The insights and skills gained through the Visual Arts would help every student communicate their feelings, and ideas in uniquely creative and powerful ways in all aspects of their education, and life.

Still life of objects depicted as icons and symbols, study of colour through the colour wheel, and exercises for colour mixing and matching, theme of portraiture to pay attention to basic ratios and proportions of the human head along with depiction of facial expressions, relief sculpture as examples of art history, exploration of local arts and traditions through textiles and embroidery from different regions and the art of calligraphy, which explore letters, scripts and written words in artistic ways are the different themes in this textbook. This journey in visual arts will not only enhance your creativity but also provides a unique way to express yourself beyond words.

INTEGRATION OF ALL ART FORMS WITH OTHER DISCIPLINES

- ❖ CULTURAL AWARENESS: Students learn to value the artistic traditions that form the backbone of India's cultural identity.
- ❖ CREATIVITY AND EXPRESSION: Opportunities to experiment with art forms, and encourage individual expression and creativity.

- ❖ INTERDISCIPLINARY LEARNING: Links with history, geography, and literature deepen their understanding of the arts in a broader context.
- ❖ CONNECTION TO HERITAGE: By studying these art forms, students feel a sense of pride and connection to their cultural roots.
- ❖ This approach ensures that Kriti not only educates but also inspires students to engage with and celebrate the incredible artistic legacy of India. It will be interesting to see how activities in each art form integrate with other disciplines like Science, Mathematics, Language, and Social Science, offering a holistic approach to education. Enjoy exploring the diverse facets of art in Grade 7.

TIME ALLOCATION AND ASSESSMENTS

The Arts textbook contains four sections, each dealing with a separate art form. It is important to plan the timetable in a way that distributes the learning of all art forms equally across the year.

As per the NCF-SE 2023, the time allocated for Arts for the entire academic year is — 100 hours (or 150 periods of 40

Under the Illustrative Timetable of the NCF-SE, Arts has been allocated 4 periods during the week and 1 period on Saturday. The document also suggests the use of block periods, where two periods (40 minutes) are combined to make enough time for activity-based classes. This would give a continuous stretch of time (80 minutes, i.e., 1 hr 20 minutes each). This book has been written keeping in mind this time allocation.

It is preferable to have all four art forms distributed across the week as the progress of all sections would happen simultaneously. It is better to avoid a system where one art form is taken up after the full completion of the other.

minutes). Based on these options the four art forms could be allocated the four periods on weekdays, and Saturday could be used for activities that are interdisciplinary or for taking children on art-based field trips, like concerts, performances or art galleries.

Week 2		Arts Education (Theatre) 2 periods combined 80 minutes		Arts Education (Dance) 2 periods combined 80 minutes		Arts Education (Practice/Field Trips)

While the first plan with 40 periods will have classes for all four art forms every week, the second plan will have only two art forms per week. Every individual art form would have classes every alternative week. It is important to have all art forms progressing simultaneously as it would enable the children to understand the inter-connections between the art forms in order to get a holistic understanding.

ASSESSMENT

Assessments in Arts play a crucial role in understanding and nurturing students' creative abilities and artistic growth. Unlike other subjects, Arts assessments focus on evaluating a wide range of skills, including creativity, critical thinking, technical proficiency and expressive capabilities. These assessments are designed not only to measure progress and mastery but also to encourage exploration, self-expression, and a deeper appreciation for the arts.

METHODS OF ASSESSMENTS

As the assessment processes are primarily skill-based, it is not dependent on the 'correct or wrong answer' given by the students. It is, therefore, important not to structure 'tests' with question papers and written answers. This would entirely defeat the purpose of the approach used in the Arts curriculum. A variety of assessment methods such as portfolios, performance reviews, project-based evaluations and reflective self-assessments, can give insights into each student's unique artistic journey.

FORMATIVE AND SUMMATIVE ASSESSMENTS

- ❖ Formative assessment is based on observations in every class and the performance of the child in each activity. Rubrics provided at the end of each chapter help in structuring the scores/grades through the year.
- ❖ Summative assessment is to have a separate day allotted for assessment. Activities conducted in class during the year and its variations can be used to assess the understanding, and ability of the student in the skills and competencies. Examples are given at the end of each section to enable better planning. Whatever is suggested spontaneous creation by students is the merit to be rewarded.

GRADES AND SCORES

Since, the arts is about creativity, visualisation, expression and imagination, it cannot have correct or wrong answers. Scoring here, is, therefore, based on parameters of the level of skill acquired and the competencies acquired by the child. The teacher is to be completely familiar with the competencies and learning outcomes for each activity in order to have a fair assessment through scores.

A 5-point scale is suggested for marking in every criterion. This would enable teachers, parents and students to get clarity on how the child is progressing. The table below can be used as a reference to mark the 5-point scale in the rubrics that are provided after each chapter.

It is important to combine both quantitative assessment (scores or grades based on rubrics) and qualitative assessment (teacher's observations on the child's behaviour, interest, progress and other aspects that may not be mentioned in the rubrics).

Learning Level of Student	Numerical Scale	Grades
Beginning	1	E
Developing	2	D
Promising	3	C
Proficient	4	B
Excellent	5	A

Assessment criteria is based on Curricular Goals (CG) and Competencies (C) from the National Curriculum Framework '23
